Right on track at Elk Point Elementary

Elk Point Elementary School held their annual Track and Field Event on Thursday, with strong, cold winds letting up and the clouds moving off just in time for principal Rob MacDonald to fire the starting pistol for the Grade 5 Boys 70 Metre final race for the ribbons. More photos on Page 7.

Mill rate remains same as 2014, but school requisition, assessments increase

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The good news for Elk Point ratepayers is that the town's mill rate is staying the same as last year's, and the bad news is that increased assessments may see some of them with a higher tax bill.

Town council took one last look at a pared-down 2015 budget at last week's meeting before giving it their approval.

This year's Alberta School Foundation Fund (ASFF) is up almost 14 per cent from last year's amount, going from $303,676 to $447,300, which Mayor Parrish Tung says, "cuts down our flexibility, but our hands are tied" in that regard. The town also has no control over assessments, which are determined by the province, and which went from $155,686,120 in 2014 to $173,718,320, he added.

Residential, farm land, four-plexes and condominiums will be taxed at 9.996 mills for the fifth consecutive year, with improved non-residential remaining at 22.500 mills, non-residential vacant and linear at 24.794 mills, and MD Foundation at 9.583 mills, all of those categories unchanged since 2011. Machinery and equipment tax rates, which saw a slight increase last year, actually drop slightly, from 19.595 mills to 18.707 mills.

CAO Ken Gwozdz told council he had polled four other communities in the area, and found mill rates had increased in St. Paul and Bonnyville, and declined in Vermilion and Cold Lake, both of which have increases in assessment due to recent construction.

Road closure

Council approved a request from Elk Point Auto Club president Ed Smith for the closure of Main Street between 49 Ave. and the alley south of RONA and of 49 Ave. between Main Street and the alley behind TD Financial from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, June 6 for the annual Show and Shine.

Centennial Subdivision

Work on Stage 2A - 1 of the Centennial Residential Subdivision is slated to begin in mid to late June, after the contractor completes a job in the town of Provost. This stage includes 14 lots and will cost $622,222.

Later in the meeting, council approved a slight change in the subdivision plan to accommodate a swale necessary for drainage from a pond in the area.

Council

Debt servicing

Council agreed to request permission to exceed the current debt servicing limit to allow refinancing of current short-term debt to long-term debt, as had been suggested in the notes to the consolidated financial statements for 2014.

Municipal Affairs training

The CAO was approved to attend a regional training session conducted by Alberta Municipal Affairs, which will help him keep abreast of current provincial policies, processes and grant availability.

AUMA Convention

Council agreed that Mayor Tung and CAO Gwozdz will attend the AUMA convention in Calgary this September. Some of the councillors may also attend, but still have time to decide before registrations close.

Strategic planning

Council decided on July 7 and 9 for a two evening Organizational Planning/Strategic Plan session with Heather Nickel that will assist the town in working together on common goals and objectives.

Airport lighting

Council has been advised that the lights and beacon at the Elk Point airport, operated jointly by the town and county, require extensive repairs. Until these can be done, the airport will be open for arrivals and departures only during daylight hours.

The town will advise Alberta Health, as this would prevent fixed wing medivac planes from using the facility at night.

Pengrowth tour

Mayor Tung and CAO Gwozdz toured the Pengrowth project recently where work is proceeding as planned. The mayor plans to take the new Energy Minister to visit the project in the near future, he said.

Golf course gazebo

Deputy Mayor Dwayne Yaremkevich told council that the gazebo near the golf course requires some repairs. This will be referred to Public Works.

Seniors' Week

Mayor Tung reminded council of the Seniors' Week kick-off breakfast on Sunday, May 31 when they would be at the Seniors' Recreation Centre bright and early to prepare breakfast for everyone.

Last day at the branch

Kaitlyn Rosychuk and Faye Poitras paused to wish Elk Point ATB manager Shawn Jensen all the best on Wednesday as he headed south to a new posting in Pincher Creek. Customers coming in to say goodbye enjoyed cake and coffee.

Hanson sworn in as new MLA

JANANI WHITFIELD
Review Staff

David Hanson officially took up the reins as Lac La Biche-St. Paul-Two Hills MLA, as he was sworn in yesterday in Edmonton.

The local Wildrose constituency association held its annual general meeting last Thursday, and before the AGM, Hanson took a few minutes to talk to the Journal about the whirlwind ride he's had since winning the seat in the May 5 election.

When asked how steep the learning curve has been, he said with a laugh, "It's straight up - it's not a curve."

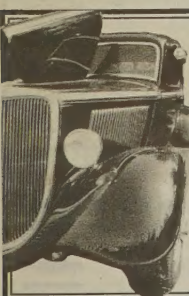

"There's lots to learn, and we're trying to learn as fast as we can," he said, adding he would be attending a mock session, planned for June 2, to help familiarize the newly sworn-in MLAs with legislature protocol. A record 70 MLAs of the 87 elected are first-timers in the legislature, including Hanson.

And in the first month since the election, things have been eventful. Hanson welcomed the government's May 27 announcement that it would restore $103 million to education spending, to help fund enrolment growth and to reverse funding cuts to transportation, inclusive education, spending for First Nations, Inuit and Metis, and other support services.

He criticized the budget put forth by the former PC government, saying "it was not a good idea" to cut spending to these areas, particularly with 12,000 new students projected to enter the system.

Guardian PHARMACY

Feeling better starts here

Capsule Comments

In some European, Asian and Caribbean countries, if you feel you need an antibiotic, you can just go into a pharmacy and ask for it... no prescription required. The drug may not be the right one for that infection or it may be a viral infection which is unresponsive to antibiotics. This can cause overuse and contribute to antibiotic resistance.

We mentioned in this column last year about a unique method of treating a potent bacterial infection caused by Clostridium difficile. This is an infectious diarrhea which can kill. The method is called fecal microbiota transplantation (FMT). It involves the introduction of donor stools into the rectum of the patient. It was successful in about 90% of cases. Sounds kind of "icky" but it's effective.

Protect your skin even if you are spending the day in the shade. Direct radiation from the sun is the most powerful but you can receive UV radiation from reflected rays from surfaces like sand, water, concrete or even grass. So use your sunscreen on a sunny day even if you are spending it in the shade.

Stress is all around us and we can choose how we react to it. If someone cuts us off in traffic, we can choose to smile tolerantly and let it go or get into a rage. Tolerance is a virtue. The opposite can be very damaging.

We will do our best to not cause you stress in our pharmacy. Try our brand of pharmacy service soon. If you are already a customer, we thank you.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Regional landfill, Fair Play, Rebellion descendants

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF JUNE 2 IN...

1985

A group was formed to conduct a feasibility study on the merits of a regional sanitary landfill in the St. Paul - Elk Point area. Elk Point Elementary School continued its long tradition of County Track Meet wins when they hosted the 1985 version, with Mike Bepalko, Kara Serniak, Melinda Boratynec, Jan MacLellan and Jodi Vogel declared the champions for their age groups.

1990

Elk Point Peewee Wolverines hockey team traveled to Jasper to receive the Fair Play Award and a handsome bronze sculpture at the Rotary Club convention. A spring concert of recitations, dances and song was the highlight of Education Week in Heinsburg.

1995

MP Deborah Grey visited Elk Point on her twice-annual constituency tour, and told local residents the federal government is "only hearing what they want to hear" about proposed gun control legislation, and felt that "people who are making their living through crime won't register their firearms." School band took their music to Mural Park for an outdoor concert on a pleasant spring evening.

2000

Descendants of four victims and three survivors of the 1885 Northwest Rebellion's Frog Lake uprising gathered at the commemorative cairn to lay a wreath, visit the graves of the fallen, the site of the village largely destroyed in the uprising and the site of Big Bear's camp a short distance away, in commemoration of their families' part in Canadian history. Alberta Union of Public Employees walked the picket line outside Elk Point Health Centre during a two-day work stoppage.

2005

"Today is your day, your mountain is waiting, so get on your way" was the theme of Heinsburg Community School's graduation, where grads Ronald Moyah, Stacie Stanley, Heather Calliou and Amber Krider all shared in presenting the class address. REACH Corporation gave Elk Point's Shop Locally promotion a big boost in the form of a $2,000 donation toward the month-long event.

2010

Coonskin-capped director Udo Mueller led the Elk Point Community Choir in The Voyageur Song, an Elk Point original written by Rob Holliday and Gabrielle Bayduza in 1992, as the choir marked two decades of spring concerts with a program that was "20 years personified", according to choir president Don Conrad. A one-mill drop in the town's tax rates might not be reflected in the bottom line, due to increased assessments that would see some home and business owners paying more than they did in 2009.

MLA, AHS reps join Health Care staff at barbecue

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The Town of Elk Point and the Health Care Professional Recruitment Committee hosted an appreciation barbecue on Wednesday for the staff of Elk Point Health Care Centre and special guests that included newly elected MLA David Hanson, his wife Donna, Alberta Health Services' North Zone Senior Operating Director of Rural Health Cindy Harmata and Director of Clinical Operations, Acute, Allied and Seniors Health Tracy Smith, County of St. Paul Reeve Steve Upham and County Coun. Maxine Fodness.

"It's been a wonderful day," Harmata said as she enjoyed her supper.

"I really enjoy working with Elk Point. It's the best of rural, it's the neighborhood." She added that the facility is very responsive to the community's needs and has "a lovely design" and caring staff.

Harmata toured the health care centre with the MLA and said the tour went very well.

"I appreciate the work of the Recruitment Committee," she noted. "It is due to their initiatives that we are finding recruitment easier, we have been able to recruit and fill both part time and full time vacancies."

The current situation "is so much different than two years ago, and I attribute it to the hard work of the committee and the very responsive leadership team."

The health care centre "reflects this community," Harmata said. "Elk Point can feel its rural roots, and it is self-reliant. I am so impressed with the different ideas that come forth, are put in the grounds like seedlings and take root. It's a different workforce from what there was three years ago."

Elk Point Health Care Centre Facility Site Manager Kristen

Peleshok, who led the tour of the facility, said she had enjoyed "a great day with both my bosses."

One of the challenges the committee is facing with the festivities is sponsorships. We understand the dynamics of the economy are not the same as they've been the last few years, but what better time to get your business name out there and support your community. Any sponsorship is greatly appreciated and will go a long way to putting together a fantastic day of events. The celebrations bring in people from all over the area and provide great exposure for your business.

Elk Point riders win 4-H Light Horse high points

QUINTON AMUNDSON
Review Contributor

Another Achievement Day is in the books for the St. Paul 4-H Light Horse Club. The club, in its 33rd year of operation hosted this event at the Ag Corral on Sat. May 23.

While first place ribbons are indeed awarded to the junior, intermediate and senior members that fare the best in the competitive events, the leaders of the club prefer the members take more pride in how they have advanced from the start of the season leading up to this annual showcase.

"Achievement Day is the time that the members show their leaders and family members how much they have progressed over the year," wrote club project leader Kara McGonigle in an email to the Journal.

"The progress of the members over the 2014/2015 riding season amazed me once again. Each and every member set their goals and achieved what they wanted to achieve this year. Not only did they learn and improve on their riding skills, they worked on important life skills as well, such as teamwork and public speaking."

The day began at 9 a.m. in the morning and wrapped up shortly after 3 p.m. Each of the members competed in eight different classes. These classes were: Showmanship, Young Horse Showmanship, English Equation, Western Pleasure, Western Horsemanship, Roping, Barrel Racing and Pole Bending.

When all the events were completed, and all the points added up, ribbons were administered to the high point and reserve champions.

Sherease Dort and her horse Babe earned two accolades. Dort was named the reserve highpoint junior champion and the high point award for first year members.

Lexi Wirsta, on her horse Jake, was named the high point junior champion.

That wasn't the only accolade that Jake won. He also won the reserve high point intermediate prize by teaming up with rider Ryden Shapka. Kailey Wirsta and Jac won the high point intermediate commendation.

Heidi Tymko and Jet were the reserve high point senior winners, while Danielle Chamberland and Cash were the high point senior victors.

The 2014-2015 season for the club will officially wrap up on June 30 with wind up activities and a barbecue.

HIGH POINT JUNIOR: Dawn Marie Tannas of the St. Paul 4H Lighthouse Club presents a high point ribbon to junior member Lexi Wirsta.

Chilly day for EPE track and field

Elk Point Elementary School's Grade 6 girls head off on their longest race of the day at the chilly beginning of Thursday's Track and Field competition.

Up, up and over she goes in the Grade 5 girls' high jump competition.

Toques aren't standard equipment for long jumpers, but the cold weather attire didn't keep this Grade 4 student from soaring through the air.

It wasn't exactly a photo finish, but today's technology made short work of determining the winners in the Grade 4 Boys' 55 M.

Participation doubles at Iron Horse Mini

QUINTON AMUNDSON

Review Contributor

Monique Poulin, one of the organizers for the 42 km Athletic Alley Iron Horse Mini run, said organizers were hoping for 50 participants as an increase over the 35 people that took part in the run from St. Paul to Elk Point last year.

That goal was completely shattered. Seventy-four people ended up participating.

Poulin said 46 of the runners were from the St. Paul/Elk Point area. There was one out-of-province athlete from Moosinin, Sask, that participated in this race as a relay runner.

The race began at the St. Paul Iron Horse trailhead at 9 a.m. Runners could opt to either tackle the course solo or to be responsible for one of the five legs of the race. The race ended at Elk Point's Visitor Information Eco-Centre.

Sandi Capjack of Elk Point, a first time participant that took part as a member of a relay team, says the race was an enjoyable experience.

"I heard about this race from a friend who said the distance wasn't crazy for someone that wanted to do their first race," says Capjack. "It was a lot of fun. I am now considering doing the big race in the fall (the 100 km Iron Horse Ultra)."

Race day was a family affair for Capjack. While she tackled the big course, her daughter Jadey tackled half of the 4.2 km Iron Horse Micro Mini course designed for children age 11 and under. Her partner, Avery Warawa took care of the other half of the race.

Heath McNamara was one of seven kids that completed the Micro Mini course solo. He felt compelled to do because he "really loves to run a lot."

Poulin says the race ran very smoothly and that is because of a good group of volunteers and the support of race sponsor Athletic Alley and the RCMP.

The results of the second Athletic Alley Iron Horse Mini are as follows:

Solo:

1. Shane Mascarin - 3h 43 min
2. Lori Wolinski - 3h 44 min
3. Matthew McQuilkin-Vida - 4h 54 min

Teams:

1. Kenya Catch us - 3h 16 min
2. Los cinco corredores - 3h 16m 30 sec
3. Rusty Sneakers - 3h 29 min

Micro Mini Solo:

1. Kurt Poulin - 27 min
2. Ethan Hardcastle - 30 min
3. Kayden MacEchon - 34 min
3. Heath McNamara - 34 min

Micro Mini Teams:

1. Avery Warawa and Jadey Capjack - 21 min
2. Kobe and Rylee Warawa - 23 min

FOR THE KIDS - Avery Warawa tackled the last half of the 4.2 km Iron Horse Mini course for kids in Elk Point. She was the first kid to cross the finish line. She and her partner, Jadey Capjack, finished the race in 21 minutes.

Season's first win for Pee wee Provincial team

Sox it to me baby! The Pee wee Sox provincial team traveled to Leduc this past weekend winning their first game of the year against St. Albert on Saturday with a final score of 13 to 6 over the Cardinals. Cold Lake product Grady Fraser on the mound to start with the help of some great defense was able to stifle the Cardinals. Graham Broda coming in on relief finished them off. Dalton "007" Reed and Charlie "Angel" Rogal both with fantastic catches in the outfield The bats were hot, Ty Smereka smacking a two-run hit to center field, "King Cole" Bendixen, Jace "the Stafford Streak", Evan "Batman" Ockerman, Brandon Goertzen and Colton McLean all with base hits. And once they got on base, they became dangerous and stole 13 bases in this game alone.

"Diamonds are a girl's best friends!" They must mean ball diamonds for these girls! The girls' Pee wee Pumas have been off to an excellent start since they played their first game on May 13 in Cold Lake and won 18 to 13. It was their first time playing a game together but they have really gelled. The next game on May 25 wasn't as easy against a strong St. Paul club; the Pumas would lose this one by a close 17 to 13. Putting that one behind them, this past week on Wednesday at their home opener against Lac LaBiche the girls played awesome. "Gorgeous Georgia" Bendixen going deep smacking two home runs, Keanna Radcliffe cranking one as well. This past Saturday the Pumas hosted a double header against Plamondon and won the first game 15 to 13, the second game of the day they tied.

After a big day of track and field at school this past Thursday the worn-out and tired Mosquitoes No. 1 team coached by Tyler Warawa and Sheldon Ballas played against Cold Lake at home, in the end losing the game by three runs but doing a super job, considering the heat that day and the fact they had to run, jump, and throw all day already at school. "St Nic" Penner with some gas still left in the tank hammered a deep one into the outfield and hustled, making it a three-bagger. In fact all the boys were hitting the ball well. Ace relief pitcher Andon Ballas did a terrific job of closing this one and getting the final three outs. "King Kong Konnor" Poitras with a heads-up play, making a superb pop fly catch and then a perfect throw to Ethan Pacquette who was ready and standing on the bag at second to make it a double play.

The Mosquitoes No. 2 coached by Travis Hymanyk and Shane Fontaine also had track and field that same day, but they hit the road anyway and traveled to play in Cold Lake, starting the game in a big hole, down by five runs in the first inning, but battled back and made a game of it. The little talented chucker "Kid Kade" Fontaine coming out of the bullpen into the game the second inning rifling his fast ball fanning three batters sending them all back to the dugout, with the help of his catcher "Sam "Spiderman" Rogal who made some nice catches and throws. Manager Tanya Fontaine said the boys are gaining more confidence at the plate and played very aggressive at stealing bases.

The Squirrel girls coached by Lisa Warawa and John Quinney defeated Lac La Biche this past week here at home in a very close game. Mia Quinney was terrific with her windmill pitching. She throws some kind of a sinking drop ball that was really catching the batters off guard. It came in and looked like a strike and they would swing and miss as it disappeared into the dirt.

Hanson

However, he felt the new NDP government is delaying on putting forth its own budget, since it has indicated it will only provide interim supply funding and will wait until September before introducing a full budget.

"I think that's a mistake. I think there's too much uncertainty, especially in the industry," he said, adding he felt it was important that the government put forth a clear policy and lay out its spending priorities.

He also expressed concern about the NDP government's decision to have a 12-person cabinet, with each of those people juggling multiple portfolios. For instance, he pointed to Brian Mason, who will be the new minister for Infrastructure and for Transportation, saying those are two "huge" portfolios for one person to handle.

"I think all of them are going to be very stressed," he said of the new cabinet.

In the midst of decision-making and learning the ropes of his new job, Hanson's also making sure to continue to talk to local people in the coffee shops and on the streets.

"People are just as important after the election as during the campaign," he said.

County council briefs

JANICE HUSER

Review Contributor

Highway 28 safety was again a topic of discussion at the May County of St. Paul council meeting, as Coun. Frank Sloan brought up concerns regarding the intersection at Highway 28 and Horseshoe Bay Road, and recommended something be done to rectify the situation, even if the road falls under provincial jurisdiction.

"There's a major safety issue out there," said Sloan, adding, motorists had to drive in the middle of the road because of its state.

The issue arises when motorists arrive at the intersection. "There were some bad potholes on the apron of the highway intersection," said CAO Sheila Kitz. "This portion of the road is the province's responsibility."

But, the province will not be doing repairs to situations like this. So, council directed administration to move forward with getting the work done, which has now been completed, said Kitz.

Public Works Superintendent Leo deMoissac said part of the problem could be traffic that is being rerouted due to the partial road ban on Highway 881.

Mallaig Water

Council approved the purchasing of two pumps and installation of the pumps at the Mallaig water wells, after the county had to truck water into the hamlet for three days in April.

Last month, the well pumps in Mallaig went down and needed to be repaired, according to the May county agenda package. The cost of trucking water into the hamlet for the three days was $2,100.

The capital expense to repair the situation was not included in the 2015 Capital budget, however, the pumps were replaced due to the need. The cost for the work was $26,121.

The pumps that were replaced had been installed in the early 1990s.

"It had to be done," said Reeve Steve Upham, adding, both pumps went down at the same time.

Council approved a motion to pay for the pumps.

Road Allowance

In an effort to ensure the continuation of a water system developed in the 1980s on the Starosielski farm, council approved a request to allow the family to purchase a portion of a road allowance.

"This road allowance has never been developed and due to its proximity to Crown land, I doubt that it would ever be considered for development," reads a letter signed by Tom Starosielski. He and his wife, Heather presented their case to council, during the May council meeting.

The Starosielskis explained that despite attempting to drill wells for their farm, there was no success, and so a water system/weir was developed in 1989. The road allowance in question has been part of the family's farm since the family homesteaded in the area, in 1939, when the original farmhouse was built on the allowance.

A dugout, which is part of the farm's watering system, lays on the road allowance currently.

The system is "a large investment," said Tom. Right now, the area is also fenced and there are cattle on the property.

Sloan spoke in favour of proceeding with the process involved in selling the road allowance to the Starosielski farm. The motion to approve the cancellation of the road allowance and proceed with the sale of land was carried.

Disposal field

After hearing a delegation and discussing the issue, and recognizing that similar issues could arise in the future, council agreed to begin the process to allow a landowner to put a disposal field or treatment mound on a piece of land at Therien Lake.

The landowners are in the process of preparing to build a house on the property, but because of the odd-shape of the lake lot, a small piece of land, about 12 metres in length, is considered lakefront property.

According to the county's land use bylaw, lakefront properties have to have self-contained sewage systems. Council previously denied a request from the landowners, at its April council meeting.

Following a presentation by Kelsen and Andrea Hall, council agreed that since the treatment mound disposal system being proposed would meet all provincial requirements and setbacks, they would move forward with the process to approve the request.

During the presentation, it was noted that the property does not slope toward the lake, and the piece of land was also purchased prior to the implementation of the new regulations. The Environmental Reserve in place also means that the property only starts about 100 metres from the water's edge.

To approve the request, council will have to amend its land use bylaw, for the specific case.

"Recreation

Leading up to the May long weekend, it was reported that all the county campgrounds were fully booked for the first official camping weekend of the season.

A full staff of 16 was in place, and all the campgrounds' water systems were up and running. So far, the county has received good feedback and changes that have been made to the reservation process, which requires people to pay the full cost of their camping stay ahead of time, and also restricts how far ahead campsites can be reserved.

The pickleball courts being built at Westcove park are near completion. The County of St. Paul FCSS took the project under its wing, since the sport is often popular with senior groups.

The project should be complete by the end of the month.
